Global madness, toxic shipment from Australia to Denmark (Nyborg)

Scandinavian transport workers are strongly against that more than 6000 tons of toxic (HBC) is shipped around the world to be destroyed in Denmark.

1gram of HBC pollutes 1,000,000,000 liters of water.

If Australia has a problem getting rid of their own toxic waste, because they don't have the capacity or technology, they should build or expand their factories, so they can take care of their own pollution problems in Australia.

We STRONGLY recommend that the toxic waste will be destroyed in Australia.

The world elite (on paper) fights for a cleaner world, with less pollution, and it is absolutely madness that a company is willing to take a giant risk for further pollution of our seas if an accident should happen for the ship.

This is another backside of that the "world elite" have agreed that transport have to be so cheap.-

In short terms IT IS GLOBAL MADNESS!

If not this madness stops and the toxic waste stays and gets destroyed in Australia, but instead is shipped to Denmark for destruction. Then NO Danish dockworkers, with support from Swedish and Norwegian Dockworkers and all Scandinavian transport workers – under ANY circumstance participate in the unloading/handling of such a shipment, and in such a matter accept legalizing of this project of global madness.
